The macaroni is al denté, the mozzarelia (2% Milk Fat) is real, the basil & garlic are fresh! We have simply replaced all frying with baking & grilling, substituted cream, butter & oil with wines & vegetable stocks: The result is a fresher, deliciously healthy alternative to traditional heavy Italian food.

Enjoy this smart way to dine in the 1990's.

We are pleased to announce the opening of our new restaurant in Budd Lake

Dear Friend,

Dear Friend,
We originally owned a Chinese American restaurant in New York city named the "HIGH NOON EXPRESS", for eight years. It was famous for its fresh, crispy vegetables and delioious home style dishes, all at moderate prices. Our friendly atmosphere mede for a memorable dining experience.
We would like to continue the same fine tradition of providing you with quality food and excellent service. We hope that you will enjoy it.

Kim, Esther, Chu, May and Shan

From "FROMMER'S - NEW YORK ON $35 A DAY"

High Noon Express, 1291 Lexington Ave, hes fast-food service with eat-in comfort. This little shop is simple, but someone has also made a real effort to keep it attractive. There are yellow Formice tables, wood captains's cheirs, and linoleum tile floors. You order at the red-and-yellow counter, backed by the three-wok open kitchen. Powerful exhaust fans keep the eir cleen. The cashler brings your order to you at your seat: some foods on styrofoam, some on real china. Soups are .75 to .90; and eggroll, .70. Side orders (basically entrees) are all under $3. There are 17 combinetion plates, most in the $3 or under range. Sweet and sour pork with fried rice or lo mein is $2.95. Mongolien beef with shrimp, chicken, and vegetables over white rice is the most expensive item on the menu et $4.50. There are also daily speciels like chicken with broccoli ($3.50), chicken or beef with asparegus ($3.75) and fried chicken with rice or lo mein ($2.60). For something refreshingly different, try the cold sesame noodles in a peanuty sauce ($2.50) - big enough to share. At High Noon Express, you'll see everyone from older ladies taking a shopper's lunch to junior executive types having dinner after an evening jog.
